Chance - a job fair for refugees and migrants (Germany)

In 2018, we took part in a job fair in Berlin to help bring together migrants and refugees with local businesses looking for employees and apprentices. Organised by the Bundesagentur für Arbeit and the local jobs centre, the event attracted more than 200 companies and approximately 4,000 visitors. We offered a variety of apprenticeships and job vacancies, conducting a number of job interviews on the day with potential applicants and, as a result, offered 10 job placements and apprenticeships. Our workforce in Germany is diverse with more than 60 different nationalities employed across the country, reflecting the diverse nature of the society we operate in.
